

Dear Justin and Rebekah,

I hope you are doing well and enjoying Virginia. How is the weather there? We have had several tropical storms come through here recently, but we have actually had a spring this year! It is hard to believe that four years has passed since your wedding! I really enjoyed your wedding on the beach with the beautiful ocean in the background. I hope you are doing better than the beach on which you were married. There have been many storms over the past four years and the beach replenishment is just about finished. There are two extra jetties/groins that have been added to the beach. Some of us were worried about what the replenishment would do to the sea turtle nesting. There was one report of a sea turtle that had to be rescued because it had wandered in the wrong direction and was stranded on higher sand. What are your thoughts on beach replenishment? Should we let nature take its course, are we interfering when we dredge for sand offshore to replenish the coasts? Hope you can come visit soon and see the ever-changing beach.

Sincerely,

Josh
